

his nemesis, Wile E. Coyote, you can make the ground disappear from under the statements of relativists you talk with. As we'll see below, you can show them that many of their beliefs and statements are groundless because they are self-defeating and therefore cannot be true.

5. List seven truths about truth and explain why each is important (see IDHEF, pages 37–38).

6. What do the authors mean when they say, “Contrary beliefs are possible, but contrary truths are not possible”? (See IDHEF, page 38.)