*Now, how about taking a moment to see what other homeschoolers are saying about Bigger Hearts for His Glory!

“First let me say I am completely blown away with Bigger Hearts for His Glory! It is so much more than I thought it would be. I have been spending hours looking at the books and the program. I am thrilled! There is a place for all my kids from the struggling reader to the advanced reader. It’s amazing!”

“We have studied Columbus many times but my dear daughters never were this interested before. I finished Chapter I today in the history book in Bigger Hearts for His Glory because they wouldn’t put it down.

“I am using Bigger Hearts for His Glory with my 8 year old. We are both loving it. It seems to really connect with my son, who loves history and geography. Before Bigger Hearts for His Glory, my son was always begging to do science experiments. I dreaded them because they always seemed too involved and had strange things that no normal person keeps on hand. Enter Bigger Hearts.... The science is the perfect blend of reading, notebooking and simple experiments that we both love.”

“The key to our happy days is the balance that the Bigger Hearts for His Glory guide provides. My husband and I’s main goal is to train our children to love and fear the Lord. Heart of Dakota’s curriculum lines up perfectly and is helping us train our kids’ hearts using the Word of God. It is also very solid academically. It’s so refreshing to find that perfect fit!”

I really appreciate how the readings are in bite-sized amounts and are reinforced through the rest of the lessons and activities. My girls discuss the things they’ve learned when it isn’t “school-time”, and I can honestly say that’s a first for me. I think Carrie has been blessed with the wisdom of knowing just how much is enough for a day. I sorely wish I had discovered Heart of Dakota a few years ago, but I’m glad I spotted it this year!
