

Little House in the Big Woods

was published when Laura was 65.

She did not dream of becoming famous.

But she hoped that a few children would read about her adventures in the Big Woods.

Lots and lots of children loved Little House in the Big Woods.

Readers all over the United States wrote to Laura.

They asked her what happened next.

They wanted to know all about Ma, Pa, Mary, Laura, Carrie, and Grace.

They wanted to know about Almanzo, too.
